Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

CURRENT LAW:

Under current law, the value associated with new construction, conversion, or rehabilitation of qualifying multi-unit residential improvements located in residential targeted areas designated by a qualifying county, city, or town may be exempt from property tax for either 8-years, 12-years, or 20 years. The exemption is commonly known as the “multifamily housing tax exemption” (MFTE).

Each of the 8-year, 12-year, or 20-year exemptions have their own qualifying requirements that include, but are not limited to, some combination of the following: proximity to transit, density, zoning, rental restrictions on a percentage of units, the length of time the restriction lasts, tenant relocation assistance at the end of the exemption, etc. Additionally, the city, town, or county where the project is located may adopt or implement more stringent qualifying requirements. An extension of the exemption is allowed if certain requirements are met.

PROPOSAL:

- Adds the definition of "conversion", which is the conversion of an existing residential building or the conversion of a nonresidential building to multiple-unit housing. The conversion of nonresidential buildings to multiple-unit housing does not exempt the value of improvements constructed prior to submitting the application unless the improvements are integral to the use of the building for multiple-unit housing purposes.

- For the exemption in Sec. 2(1)(a)(ii)(B), changes the 12-year exemption to a 99-year exemption, and requires that 35% of housing square footage, rather than 20% of units, be affordable to low- and moderate-income households.

- For the exemption in Sec. 2(1)(a)(iii), changes the 12-year exemption to a 99-year exemption with the same requirements as Sec. 2(1)(a)(ii)(B) above, with the added requirement that the project be in a city as defined in RCW 84.14.010(3)(d) and the area must be zoned to have a density of at least 15 units per acre or, for cities with a population above 20,000, 25 units per acre.

- The extension option for the preferences in Sec. 2(1)(a)(ii)(A) and (B) is changed to a 99-year exemption with the requirement that 35% of housing square footage must be affordable to low-income households.

- For the exemption in Sec. 2(1)(a)(ii)(B) and (C), land value is also exempt proportionally to the percentage of housing space dedicated to qualifying units.

- Twenty-year exemption for permanently affordable home ownership in Sec. 3(1)(a) also now includes land value in the same proportion.

- For Sec. 2 and 3, no new exemptions may be provided as of January 1, 2032. For Sec. 2, no extensions may be granted as of January 1, 2046.

EFFECTIVE DATE:

The bill takes effect 90 days after final adjournment of the session in which it is enacted.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

ASSUMPTIONS:

Local governments administer this exemption, the bill allows local governments to choose to adopt the exemption or not, and allows local governments to set additional qualifying restrictions.

REVENUE ESTIMATE:

This exemption will result in no revenue loss to the state school levy as the tax burden will shift to other taxpayers. Due to the uncertainty around local government implementation of this legislation, the amount of shift is indeterminate.

Local regular levy districts will also experience an indeterminate shift of taxes. The shift could result in local revenue loss due to levy limits.

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

The Department of Revenue will have minimal costs of approximately $2,460 for 40 hours of work by a property acquisition specialist to implement this legislation and will absorb within current funding.

Part IV: Analysis

A. SUMMARY OF BILL

Description of the bill with an emphasis on how it impacts local government.

This bill would modify the Multifamily Housing Tax Exemption by:

- adding a definition for "conversion"
- modifying the definition of "rehabilitation improvements" to include residential, nonresidential, and underutilized
- changing the 12-year exemption to a 99-year exemption, and requires that 35% of housing square footage, rather than 20% of units, be affordable to low- and moderate-income households
- changing the extension option for the preferences in Sec. 2(1)(a)(ii)(A) and (B) to a 99-year exemption with the requirement that 35% of housing square footage must be affordable to low-income households
- exempting land value in proportion to the percentage of housing space dedicated to qualifying units
- including land value in the same proportion in the 20 year exemption for permanently affordable home ownership in Sec. 3(1)(a)

B. SUMMARY OF EXPENDITURE IMPACTS

Expenditure impacts of the legislation on local governments with the expenditure provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of expenditures. Delineated between city, county and special district impacts.

This bill would not impact local government expenditures. The program already exists and no new action is required.

C. SUMMARY OF REVENUE IMPACTS

Revenue impacts of the legislation on local governments, with the revenue provisions identified by section number, and when appropriate, the detail of revenue sources. Delineated between city, county and special district impacts.

This bill would have an indeterminate revenue impact on local governments. The number of newly eligible properties applying for and receiving the tax exemption is unknown, therefore the tax revenue loss cannot be calculated.

According to the Department of Revenue, this exemption is administered by local governments, allows local governments to choose to adopt the exemption or not, and allows local governments to set additional qualifying restrictions.

This exemption will result in no revenue loss to the state school levy as the tax burden will shift to other taxpayers. Due to the uncertainty around how local governments will implement this legislation, the amount of shift is indeterminate.

Local regular levy districts will also experience an indeterminate shift of taxes. The shift could result in local revenue loss due to levy limits.
