Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

This bill requires the Secretary of State to add a constitutional amendment to the 2023 General Election.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

Voters' pamphlet

This bill requires OSOS to print the constitutional amendment in the voters' pamphlet. Printing the constitutional amendment, estimated to be 8 pages, has a projected cost of approximately $59,453 which is comprised of $49,476 for printing, $5,040 for composition, and $4,937 for language translation. Postage costs are not included for odd-year pamphlets because those costs are fixed for voters' pamphlets below 88 pages (less than 4oz, per the USPS). The additional 8 pages are not expected to push an odd-year voters' pamphlet over 88 pages.

Odd-Year election costs

Adding an additional issue for the state results in increased odd-year election costs of $64,428. This amount was calculated by adding an additional issue the state proration for each of the 39 counties 2019 odd-year election costs; the resulting change between the base and the base + 1 is the cost seen here. All other factors were held constant.

Legal advertisements

The Office of the Secretary of State operating budget includes funding for the publication of notices in every legal newspaper in the state four times prior to the general election. This fiscal note does not assume additional cost to publish this measure because the notices would be customized such that they remain within the authorized budget for legal advertising.

Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

Note: This fiscal note reflects a revision to the description, and replaces fiscal note number 8204-1.

Senate Joint Resolution 8204 amends Article VII of the Washington constitution to:

- Allow the Legislature, through appropriate legislation, to provide a homestead property tax exemption (homestead exemption) from property taxes levied for state purposes on property occupied as a principal residence of an individual for up to $250,000 in equalized assessed value.
- Require the state levy be reduced as necessary to prevent the homestead exemption from resulting in a higher rate than would have occurred in the absence of the exemption.
- Allow the Legislature to also, by appropriate legislation, provide a similar benefit as the homestead exemption through a renter's credit to qualified residential tenants.
- Allow the Legislature to provide an annual increase to the maximum amount of the homestead exemption and the renter's credit.
- Allow the Legislature to place other restrictions and conditions on the homestead exemption and the renter's credit.

Washington voters must approve this constitutional amendment in the November 2023 general election.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

This resolution grants the Legislature the authority to provide a homestead exemption for property taxes levied for state purposes and a similar renter's credit in the form of a refund. By itself, this resolution results in no revenue impact to the state property tax levy.

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

The Department of Revenue will not incur any costs with passage of this resolution.

Part IV: Analysis

A. SUMMARY OF BILL

Description of the bill with an emphasis on how it impacts local government.

Senate Joint Resolution 8204 would propose an amendment to Article VII of the state constitution to:

- Authorize the Legislature, through appropriate legislation, to provide a homestead property tax exemption from property taxes levied for state purposes on property occupied as a principal residence of an individual for up to $250,000 in equalized assessed value
- Require reduction in the state levy as necessary to prevent the homestead exemption from resulting in a higher rate than would have occurred in the absence of the exemption
- Authorize the Legislature to also, by appropriate legislation, provide a similar benefit as the homestead exemption through a renter's credit to qualified residential tenants
- Authorize the Legislature to provide an annual increase to the maximum amount of the homestead exemption and the renter's credit
- Authorize the Legislature to place other restrictions and conditions on the homestead exemption and the renter's credit

This joint ratification of this resolution would be required to implement this constitutional amendment through SB 5387.

Washington voters must approve this constitutional amendment in the November 2023 general election.

B. SUMMARY OF EXPENDITURE IMPACTS

Expenditure impacts of the legislation on local governments with the expenditure provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of expenditures. Delineated between city, county and special district impacts.

This bill would not impact local government expenditures because no action is required.

C. SUMMARY OF REVENUE IMPACTS

Revenue impacts of the legislation on local governments, with the revenue provisions identified by section number, and when appropriate, the detail of revenue sources. Delineated between city, county and special district impacts.

This resolution grants the Legislature the authority to provide a homestead exemption for property taxes levied for state purposes and a similar renter's credit in the form of a refund. By itself, this resolution results in no revenue impact to local governments.

Please see the local government fiscal note for SB 5387 for the impacts of the authority being implemented through legislation.
