Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact on the Courts

This bill would allow a civil action to be brought by someone whose personal identifying information is published in violation of the new section. Prevailing claimants are entitled to any or all remedies upon request: compensatory damages, punitive damages, statutory damages of $5,000 per violation, costs and reasonable attorneys' fees, injunctive relief, and any other relief deemed appropriate by the court. The court may on its own motion or upon motion of any party issue a temporary restraining order or injunction or permanent injunction to restrain and prevent the disclosure or continued disclosure of a party's personal identifying information. The action can be filed where the person resides or in any county which an element of the violation occurred.

II. B - Cash Receipts Impact

II. C - Expenditures

There would be no fiscal impact to the Administrative Office of the Courts. Any impact to the courts would be indeterminate and would only occur depending on whether victims file suit.
