Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

The proposed legislation has no fiscal impact to the Washington State Patrol (WSP).

Section 1 adds the authorization for bailiffs of the supreme court to conduct threat assessments on behalf of supreme court justices, which includes the ability to receive criminal history records that includes nonconviction data.

Subsection 2(8) allows for the dissemination of said data and prohibits the dissemination or use of the data for purposes other than authorized in this subsection.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

NONE

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

It will take a negligible amount of time for our Criminal Records Division to set up a new Washington Access To Criminal History – Criminal Justice account for the bailiffs to use for conducting their checks.
