Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

HB 2004 would require institutions of higher education to offer early course registration to eligible veterans, National Guard members, active-duty military members, and their spouses, domestic partners, and dependents. The University of Washington already provides this population with the ability to register during the first period of registration. Therefore, we do not anticipate any fiscal impact under the provisions of this bill.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

HB 2004 requires that starting academic year 2024-2025, institutions of higher education that offer an early course registration period for any segment of the student population must have a process in place to offer students who are eligible veterans, national guard members, active-duty military members, and their spouses/domestic partners and dependents early course registration.

This bill would not fiscally impact Washington State University.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

Section 1: New section is added to chapter 28B.10 6RCW to read as follows: (1) Would require institutions of higher education that offer an early course registration period for any segment of the student population to have a process in place to offer eligible: veterans, national guard members, active duty military members and their spouses/domestic partners, and dependents early course registration beginning in the 2024-25 academic year. The requirement for an early course registration process is as follows:

(a) New students eligible under this subsection with a completed admission process must be offered an early course registration period; and (b) Continuing/returning former students eligible under this subsection who have met current enrollment requirements must be offered early course registration among continuing students with the same level of class standing or credits determined by the institution's policies (2) For purposes of this section, "eligible veterans or national guard members" has the same meaning as in RCW 28B.15.621.

CWU does not estimate any fiscal impact based on the language of this bill.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

HB 2004 relates to early registration at institutions of higher education for eligible military students.

Section 1.1 states that any institutions that offers an early registration period for any segment of the student population must have a process in place to offer early registration to veterans, national guard members, active duty military and their spouses, domestic partners, and dependents, as follows:

Section 1.1 (a) states that new military students who are eligible and have completed all of their admissions processes must be offered an early registration period.

Section 1.1(b) states that continuing military students who are eligible must be offered early registration among continuing students of the same class standing or credit as determined by the institution.

The requirements of this bill are already met by the early registration processes in place at The Evergreen State College, and the college plans to continue these practices whether the bill becomes law or not.

There is no fiscal impact to The Evergreen State College from this bill.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

This bill would provide early registration opportunities at Institutions of Higher Education for eligible veterans, national guard members, active duty military members, and their spouses, domestic partners, and dependents.

SECTION 1

Beginning in the 2024-25 academic year, institutions who offer an early course registration period for any segment of the student population must have a process in place to offer early course registration to eligible students identified in the bill. Eligible students include eligible veterans, national guard members, active-duty members, spouses, domestic partners, and dependents. This applies to new, continuing and returning students and is applicable to granting priority within credit or class level as other students.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

No cash receipts impact.

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

No expenditure impact.

This bill would re-establish statutory requirements that expired August 1, 2022. Some colleges have continued early registration practices and there are existing mechanisms in community college IT systems that can facilitate setting registration access times for the eligible students.
