Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

HB 2025 is an act relating to modifying placement and salary matching requirements for the state work-study (SWS) program. The State Work Study program currently has 123 non-profit and public employers participating in the program at a 70% reimbursement rate. They employ approximately 700 students.

This bill would amend the current RCW by adding the following requirement:

* Funds appropriated for compensation of students placed at state work study employers must not exceed 80 percent of the total compensation paid to students. Exceptions include community service placements and placements at public and nonprofit employers seeking to increase postsecondary enrollment for high school students.

Assuming the current level of appropriation for the SWS program, there is no fiscal impact for administrative expenses. The Washington Student Achievement Council (WSAC) annually reviews reimbursement rates, employer contracts, position descriptions, wage changes, and trains employers on program requirements.

The program changes described in this legislation will not result in any additional fiscal impact to the Washington Student Achievement Council.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.
