Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

Section (1) expands leasing to include trust assets.

Section (3) allows assets to be leased for up to 20 years.

The bill does not direct the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) to do any work, it only allows the expansion of leasing to include assets.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

The bill expands leasing to include assets. DNR assumes an increase in revenue for leasing assets but the type, duration, amount, and number of leases is unknown.

DNR has no history of leasing water rights so there are many unknowns for the actual valuation. As an example of potential, the California Nasdaq water trading index shows average prices per acre foot. At the current price, a single 400/acre/ft water right would lease for $81,200. For this example, most agricultural water rights are on federally granted lands so 69 percent of revenue would go to Fund 113 Common School Construction Account and 31 percent would go to Fund 041 Resource Management Cost Account.

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.
