Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

There is no fiscal impact. Pursuant to RCW 67.70.330, Washington’s lottery is a limited authority law enforcement agency as defined in RCW 10.93.020(5). However, the definition of “peace officer” in the bill applies only to general authority peace officers as defined in RCW 10.93.020(4) and is inapplicable to Lottery employees. In addition, Lottery employees are not authorized by the agency to arrest or detain suspects.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

There is no fiscal impact to the Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS). This bill creates a process for state law enforcement officers and places of detention to deliver fugitives to requesting tribes and creates a process for state law enforcement officers to enforce tribal arrest warrants. DSHS does not have peace officers or arrest capabilities and therefore the provisions of this bill do not apply.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Section 1, 3-11: Intent of the legislature to create uniform processes and communications by which the state may consistently reciprocate with tribes the return of those who violate tribal law and are seeking to avoid tribal justice systems by leaving tribal jurisdiction. Also, describes protections for individuals alleged to have violated criminal laws. Complying with warrants and judicial processes.

Section 2: Defines: (1) Noncertified tribe” (2) “Certified tribe” (3) "Peace officer" (4) "Place of detention" (5) "Tribal court judge" (6) "Tribal fugitive" or "fugitive" (7) "Tribal police officer".

Section 12: New: Chapter may be known as “tribal warrants act”

Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

Western Washington University does not foresee a significant fiscal impact for this bill. The university acknowledges that the proposed legislation primarily aligns with existing procedures followed by law enforcement agencies for warrants from other jurisdictions. The bill extends the authority to arrest individuals based on Tribal Warrants, which were previously under federal jurisdiction. The process for executing arrests on Tribal Warrants is expected to be similar to that for other warrants, involving transporting individuals to the nearest detention center for processing.

While the bill introduces additional reasons for arrest, the university anticipates that these instances will likely be infrequent for the Western Washington University Police Department (WWUPD). The conclusion is based on the understanding that the bill aligns with established law enforcement practices and expands arrest authority without significantly altering the operational processes already in place.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

Section 1 describes the purpose of the bill to expand cross jurisdictional cooperation so that fugitives from tribal courts cannot evade justice by remaining off reservation in Washington's counties and cities, while ensuring that defendants protections receive the fullest due process protections. Sections 6 through 10 describe the procedures for non-certified and certified tribes.

This bill, if passed, clarifies rules by which tribal warrants are processed as they apply to both non-certified and certified tribes in the state. It also clarifies procedures for the processing of tribal warrants to include with the courts and jails where the warrants are held. This does not impact the normal operations of the Department of Natural Resources' (DNR) law enforcement officers and does not have any fiscal impact.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates.
