Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY DIVISION:

The bill requires that the Washington State Liquor and Cannabis Board ("LCB") to create a detailed dashboard which analyzes and displays public health data from the LCB, DSHS, HCA, and DOH. This dashboard will be created through the agency's Director's Office, specifically through the Research Team.

The agency's Information Technology Division supports the Research Team by ensuring they have access to the complete, accurate, digestible data they need in order to carry out their mandates.

In order to provide this support, the agency will need to work with each of these external agencies to:

- Create data sharing agreements (DSA) which reflect the newly-shared data or amend existing DSAs
- Create system interfaces with each of these agency's databases which hold the information necessary to create and maintain the required dashboard
- If the data is not hosted in a database, establish Managed File Transfers to facilitate the consistent and secure sharing of the required data

Because the requested data has not been shared previously between these agencies and the LCB, the agency does not know the level of complexity that performing these tasks will entail. The scope of the data, as well as its current method of storage, is currently unknown to the LCB, and will require additional time and collaboration with these agencies to understand. With interfaces between systems, complexity and resources needed can vary wildly and require significant investment.
