Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

Section 1(3) amends RCW 43.101.200 to eliminate the requirement of law enforcement agencies to reimburse the commission for twenty-five percent of the cost of training its personnel after fiscal year 2024.

The effect of this change is the commission will no longer collect funds from law enforcement agencies to provide basic law enforcement training and the amount of funds that were previously collected from local law enforcement agencies will now be provided by the state.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

The commission will no longer collect revenue from local law enforcement agencies effective July 1, 2024 for 25% reimbursement of the cost to train its personnel in the Basic Law Enforcement Academy.

The private/local appropriation the commission has related to basic law enforcement training and revenue to be collected is $4,446,000 in fiscal year 2025 and each year after.

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

In fiscal year 2025 expenditures that were previously paid with private/local funds will now be paid with state funds as local law enforcement agencies will not be required to pay 25% of the cost to train their personnel.

Although fiscal impact is only noted for fiscal year 2025, the current base levels assume that the local cost share is on-going. If the intent of the bill is to eliminate local cost share going forward, the on-going budget amounts should also be adjusted.

Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

Senate Bill 6242 concerns law enforcement training. It provides that the costs of basic law enforcement training (facilities, supplies, materials, and room and board) provided through the Criminal Justice Training Commission will be fully covered by the State starting in FY25. Currently, the officer's law enforcement agency is required to cover 25 percent of these costs through FY25.

The University of Washington Police Department (UWPD) usually hires officers laterally who do not need to attend basic law enforcement training. Therefore, any cost savings associated with SB 6242 for UWPD, and the University as a whole, in FY25 are likely to be minimal. However, should UWPD hire an entry-level officer, it is expected that the cost savings to UWPD for the basic law enforcement training course would be approximately $5,000 per officer hired.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

SB 6242 reenacts and amends RCW 43.101.200 relating to requirements and timing for law enforcement basic and continuing training. EWU PD complies with current requirements for training and does not anticipate that compliance with the requirements of this bill will incur additional expense. EWU therefore anticipates no fiscal impact.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

The bill in Section 1 introduces training requirements for law enforcement personnel, along with specified timelines and reimbursement provisions for agencies. Despite the changes in wording from 2023-2025 to the fiscal year 2024, the university police department already adheres to these requirements, leading to no expected fiscal impact. The practice of paying 25% for academy attendance remains unchanged.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact
