Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

The bill would require the Secretary of State to add a constitutional amendment to the 2024 General Election.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

To implement this bill, the Office of the Secretary of State (OSOS) would incur costs related to placing a constitutional amendment on the General Election ballot. This would increase costs for producing the Voter's Pamphlet and the prorated state share of election costs paid under RCW 29A.04.420.

Voters' pamphlet:

This bill requires OSOS to print the constitutional amendment in the voters' pamphlet. Printing the constitutional amendment, estimated to be 8 pages, has a projected cost of approximately $10,000 which is comprised of printing, composition, and language translation.

Even-Year election costs:

Adding an additional issue for the state will increase of $25,000 in the state share of even-year election costs. This amount was calculated by adding an additional issue the state share for each of the 2022 election costs.

Legal advertisements:

The Office of the Secretary of State operating budget includes funding for the publication of notices in every legal newspaper in the state four times prior to the general election. This fiscal note does not assume additional cost to publish this measure because the notices would be customized such that they remain within the authorized budget for legal advertising.

Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

This resolution amends Article VII of the Constitution to allow the Legislature, by appropriate legislation, to provide a state property tax exemption for residential real property.

This proposed constitutional amendment requires voter approval at the November 2024 general election.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

This resolution grants the Legislature the authority to provide a property tax exemption for residential real property. The exemption can only apply to state property tax levies and cannot apply to any local property tax levies. By itself, this resolution has no revenue impact.

An implementing bill's fiscal note will include any impacts.

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

The Department of Revenue will not incur any costs with the implementation of this legislation.
