Commission employees are not authorized by the agency to take suspects into custody or otherwise engage in custodial interrogation.

Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

The proposed second substitute legislation eliminates the fiscal impacts to the Washington State Patrol (WSP).

The proposed second substitute legislation removes the sections that defined “custodial interrogation” and “deception” as well as the exemptions to these definitions. It also removed the section that would make a statement inadmissible if the court determined that the officer intentionally engaged in deception in obtaining the statement as well as the section that would allow the prosecution to overcome the presumption of inadmissibility if it proves that the person’s statement was voluntary.

New Section 1 requires the CJTC, subject to the availability of funding appropriated for the purpose, to contract with an expert or organization with certain expertise to develop, administer, and periodically revise a training in evidence-based, noncoercive interrogation techniques for law enforcement personnel, and to begin offering the training by July 1, 2025, at no cost to law enforcement personnel or agencies. It also allows any law enforcement agency to contract for or otherwise receive training in evidence-based, noncoercive interrogation techniques, provided that any entity that the law enforcement agency contracts with or otherwise receives such training from must be certified in the techniques described under subsection(2).

New Section 2 states that if specific funding is not provided by June 30, 2024, this act is null and void.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

NONE

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

Once the training in New Section 1 is created by the CJTC, we will evaluate incorporating that into our training plan.

Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

There is no fiscal impact to the Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS). This bill specifies that the Criminal Justice Training Commission (CJTC) shall contract with an expert or organization with expertise in interrogation tactics to develop, administer, and periodically revise a training in evidence-based, noncoercive interrogation techniques for law enforcement personnel. Any law enforcement agency may contract for or otherwise receive training in evidence-based, noncoercive interrogation techniques from entities other than or in addition to CJTC. DSHS does not have arrest capabilities and does not conduct interrogations.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

II. C - Expenditures

*Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. ## Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

An act relating to the use of deception by law enforcement officers during custodial interrogations; adding a new section to chapter 43.101 RCW; and creating a new section.

1062 2S HB differs from 1062 S HB in the following ways:

Section 1 and Section 2 from 1062 S HB are removed from the bill language thus eliminating all provisions in the bill related to establishing a presumption of inadmissibility for certain confessions made during a custodial interrogation in response to the interrogating officer's use of deception.

Section 1 states that the commission will contract with an expert or organization to develop, administer, and revise a training in evidence-based noncoercive interrogation techniques and law enforcement agencies may contract training with other entities provided that the training meets the provided requirements.

Section 2 adds a null and void clause, making the bill null and void unless funded in the budget by June 30, 2024.

Effective date is assumed 90 days after adjournment of session in which this bill is passed.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

None

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

The fiscal impact of this bill is indeterminate, assumed to be less than $50,000 per Fiscal Year (FY).

Section 1 specifies that the new training program in "evidence-based noncoercive interrogation techniques" will be available at no cost to agencies within the state. However, it is unknown whether this new training program will require attendance in person or online. Depending on the length and required location of said training, there may be additional funding required. Therefore, the fiscal impact is indeterminate assumed to be less than $50,000 per FY.

Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

Second Substitute House Bill 1062 concerns custodial interrogations by law enforcement. Compared with previous versions, the second substitute removes the presumption that statements made during custodial interrogations are inadmissible in court if it is found that a law enforcement officer intentionally engaged in deception to obtain the statement. Meanwhile, Section 1 directs the Criminal Justice Training Commission to contract to develop, administer, and periodically revise a training in evidence-based, noncoercive interrogation techniques for law enforcement agencies and personnel. This training is required to be offered at no costs starting July 1, 2025.

There is no expected fiscal impact to the University of Washington Police Department (UWPD), or the University as a whole, from 2SHB 1062. While UWPD officers may engage in the offered training, they can do so at no cost.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

2SHB 1062 adds a new section to chapter 43.101 RCW and creates a new section, relating to use of deception by LEOs during custodial interrogations. Changes to the current bill include removal of definitions and the presumption of inadmissibility outlined in sections 1 and 2 of the previous substitute. The current bill adds the ability for law enforcement agencies to contract for or otherwise receive training from entities other than the commission provided that the entity is certified in the techniques outlined in subsection 1(2).

EWU does not anticipate that these changes will cause a fiscal impact, therefore we are submitting the same response as previously.

Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

2S HB 1062 relates to the use of deception by law enforcement officers during custodial interrogations.

The definitions in section 1 of the previous version of the bill have been deleted.

The statement in section 2 related to the admissibility of statements made in response to deception during custodial interrogations has been deleted.

Section 1(5) includes a new provision that a law enforcement agency may contract for or otherwise receive training in evidence-based, noncoercive interrogation techniques from other than the commission or the commission's experts if the provider of the training is certified in the techniques identified in section 1(2)(a-d).

As the training described in section 1(5) could still be obtained from the Criminal Justice Training Commission at no cost, there is no fiscal impact to the college from this latest version of the bill.

*****

S HB 1062 relates to the use of deception by law enforcement officers during custodial interrogations.

New section 3 adds a requirement for the Criminal Justice Training Commission.

The revised bill creates no additional requirements for the college so the assessment of no fiscal impact is not changed.

*****

HB 1062 relates to the use of deception by law enforcement officers during custodial interrogations.

Section 1 defines "custodial interrogation," "deception," "law enforcement officer," "person" and "statement."

Section 2 states that a statement made by a person which has been obtained via deception during a custodial interrogation is presumed to be inadmissible. The prosecution may overcome the presumption if it proves that the statement was made voluntarily and not as a result of deception.

If this bill becomes law, the college's police officers will be trained to the new standard using existing resources. There is no fiscal impact on the college.

Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

This new substitute bill removes all of the original bill's language and replaces it with a mandate for the Washington Criminal Justice Training Commission (CJTC) to contract with experts in interrogation techniques and develop training for all Washington Law Enforcement Officers. This bill, if enacted, would allow for the CJTC to provide a training course in interrogation techniques to law enforcement. DNR officers would take this course if offered by CJTC. This would be accomplished during normal training sessions, and therefore will have no fiscal impact.

Part IV: Analysis

A. SUMMARY OF BILL

Description of the bill with an emphasis on how it impacts local government.

CHANGES BETWEEN THIS VERSION AND PRIOR VERSION OF THE BILL:

The second substitute requires the Criminal Justice Training Commission to contract with an expert or organization with expertise in interrogation tactics to develop, administer, and periodically revise a training in evidence-based, noncoercive interrogation techniques for law enforcement personnel. It omits the provisions in the previous version that made statements inadmissible as evidence if an officer intentionally engaged in deception. These changes remove the fiscal impact for local governments.

SUMMARY OF BILL:

Sec. 1 adds a new section to RCW 43.101. Subject to the availability of amounts appropriated, the Criminal Justice Training Commission (CJTC) shall contract with an expert or organization with expertise in interrogation tactics to develop, administer, and periodically revise a training in evidence-based, noncoercive interrogation techniques for law enforcement personnel. After development of the training is completed, the CJTC shall make the training available at no cost to all law enforcement personnel and law enforcement agencies in the state.

The CJTC shall begin offering the training by July 1, 2025. Any law enforcement agency may contract for or otherwise receive training in evidence-based, noncoercive interrogation techniques from entities other than or in addition to the CJTC or the CJTC's contracted expert or organization, provided that any entity that the law enforcement agency contracts with or otherwise receives such training from must be certified in the techniques described under subsection (2) of this section.
